Lesson Plan (SEC-VI, Semester VI, January to April 2023)

Name of Teacher	Nagendra Kumar	Department	History
Course	History Hons.	Semester	VI
Paper	Radio and Cinema in India: A Social History	Academic Year	2022-23

Learning Objectives

The course will apprise students with the elementary outlines of the history Of radio and cinema in India from its beginnings till the 1980s. It will familiarize them with the varied ways in which the Indian state attempted to regulate and conduct radio broadcasting during and after the colonial period. It will also impart an understanding of the basic trends in the development of cinema as a narrative medium that drew from diverse traditions of story-telling already present in the subcontinent. The material as well as the generic contexts of these developments would also be made comprehensible to the students.

Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of course students shall be able to:

- Delineate the historical context within which the beginnings of cinema and radio might be understood,
- Analyze the state's attempt to control and deploy radio as a medium that carried forward the state agenda.
- Explain how cinema reflected and engaged with the larger ideological and material tensions of society even as it was also subject to technological changes that helped mediate these developments.
- Identify how Indian cinema engaged with social and ideological issues of its time, especially in the three decades after independence.
